The boys are going to form a second nine here and will soon be out for challenges.

Spangler's watermelon outfit was in town Tuesday morning delivering excellent melons.

Mathew Pryor is building a house on the land he recently purchased from Jeff Brown.

The Dramatic Club postponed their regular meeting of last Saturday night to Monday night, but it fizzled out.

Mrs. Sarah Dixon is reported to be "better than ever before." Mrs. Dixon has been suffering from heart trouble.

Mr. J. Shaw, father of Mrs. Wm. Mayes died at her home Monday and was buried at Owen Church in the afternoon.

William Lee and family left for the West Tuesday. He will locate in some good farming section. Mr. Lee was a good citizen and we regret to lose him from the community. He goes to West Point, Texas.

Prosperity struck the home of Sam Spears this week in the arrival of a son who is to be named H. Clay Evans Spears, and there are others. Sequachee's population is kept up by arrivals to fill the place of those who leave us.

Read our Texas Letter this week. Most papers around here laugh at these letters and vote them a bore, but we do not. We notice that a Texas letter is read just as closely as the local column, and that is sufficient proof that the people like them.

W. S. Pryor and James Thornton returned from the Centennial safe and sound. They report the music and the government exhibit as very fine, by do not say much of Vanity Fair, which is right, as it beggars description and must be seen to be appreciated.

The mails of last week brought us a series of Buffalo papers with details of the National Encampment of the G. A. R. We do not know whom to thank for their thoughtfulness, but we assure them of our great appreciation.

The regular meetings of Post 53 and Camp 7 will be held on Saturday next. The Committee on the Camp Fire and Reunion will be ready to report a program and all indications point to a pleasant time Saturday Oct. 9th.

We hear from Cleveland, Ohio, of the marriage of Miss Lena Erbst, sister of Mrs. L. W. Gabel of this county. While visiting here, Miss Erbst was highly respected for her aimability and practicability, and the News wishes her all the happiness she can desire.

Mr. W. L. Melcher returned to his home in Laconia, N. H., and Mr. G. Sherman left for a visit to his home at Lundy's Lane, Pa., Wednesday of last week, taking in the Centennial on their way. We did not know of their departure until we had gone to press, as they had "Folded their tents like the Arabs, And silently stole away."

P. T. Barnum once said: "If you have $1,000 to put into business, pay half of it for your goods and reserve the other half for advertising. I can outtalk any man but a printer. The man that can stick type and the next morning talk to a thousand people while I am talking to one is the man I am afraid of, and I want him for a friend."—Gladwin, Mich., Record.

Owing to overcrowding and bad ventilation, the air of the schoolroom is often close and impure, and teachers and pupils frequently suffer from lung and throat troubles. To all such we would say, try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For coughs, colds, weak lungs and bronchial troubles no other remedy can compare with it. Says A. C. Reed, Superintendent of Schools, Prairie Depot, Ohio: "Having some knowledge of the efficacy of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I have no hesitation in recommending it to all who suffer from coughs, lung troubles, etc."—For sale by C. H. Davidson.

Messrs. W. A. Turner, W. A. Brown, and G. W. Brown, of Victoria, passed through town Sunday afternoon, from attending quarterly meeting at Pleasant Hill. Dr. Manaker, of Chattanooga preached a fine sermon they say. It is not known which of the two was most tired of the other, the mule or Mr. Turner.

"My boy came home from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding," says Mr. E. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros. Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds sprains, swellings and rheumatism I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by C. H. Davidson. Sept.

Bottom of a Well.
Jackson, Sept. 6.—Mrs. Porter Baker, of this county, had a most horrible experience Saturday. While alone at home she went to the old-fashioned well to draw water to do the family washing. In some way she became entangled in the rope and was hurled to the bottom of the well. The cold water was nearly as deep as her height, but she stood upon the bucket and waited hour after hour for help. From 8 a. m. till late in the afternoon she stood in the cold water. A negro came over on an errand, and heard her screams from the bottom of the well. He secured a basket and rope and drew her out. She fainted on reaching the top of the well. Mrs. Baker has been in a critical condition ever since her rescue, and may not live.

Talk of Extension.
If rumors that were afloat last night are true there is probability of the Centennial being kept open another month.

The manager of a prominent attraction on Vanity Fair stated that the Centennial management had been feeling the pulse of the exhibitors in regard to the matter, and had said that if they would promise to keep their exhibits and shows open during the month of November a satisfactory proposition would be made them. Whether or not there is anything in the report could not be learned at the time, but the gentleman who made the statement was very positive that a great many of the exhibitors had been approached upon the question.—American.

M. C. Tinsley, of Whitwell, was in town Thursday last.

A Big Revival.

A revival meeting was organized at Hale's Chapel near Rankin's Ferry on Saturday last by Rev. Jacob Houts, and has continued since with very gratifying results, there being 21 conversions and 20 accessions to the church at that place, and the end is not yet. Rev. J. A. Darr, of Jasper, rendered good assistance, as he always does, for two days. On Sunday, the funeral sermon of grandmother Morgan was preached by Rev. Jacob Houts to a very numerous assemblage. The services will continue.
